

Curriculum Vitae
 Jeanette Tantillo
 writejeanette@gmail.com

Personal Profile including career highlights, and personal information	Nationality American Birth Date 7 May 1969 SUMMARY Current project: Research on the Impact of Internet Search Engine Results on the Ability of Civil Society to Engage in International Relations Professional: Thirteen years in teaching / presentation and five years experience in project management. Thirteen years focusing on international and sustainable development issues including ethics, trade, information technologies, international organizations and environment. Academic: Four years graduate work in international development including urban planning and redevelopment, public policy, effects of debt on trade and development, sustainable development, capacity building, and the impacts of information technologies on international relations (Master's thesis). Four years undergraduate work in political science.
Education	Master in International Studies, Geneva, Switzerland Oct 1997 - Oct 1999 Institut universitaire de hautes études internationales (IUHEI) Specialization: International History and Politics Master of City and Regional Planning, New Brunswick, NJ USA Sep 1995 - May 1997 Rutgers University, Edward J. Bloustein School of Planning and Public Policy Lecturer / Teaching Assistant - Introduction to Urban Studies Executive Committee Chair - Rutgers Association of Planning Students Bachelor of Arts, New Brunswick, NJ USA Sep 1987 - May 1991 Rutgers University, Douglass College, Political Science Merit Scholar, Distinguished Scholar Junior Year Abroad Program, Exeter, England Oct 1989 - Jun 1990 University of Exeter, International Politics
Professional Experience	Instructor Webster University , Geneva, Switzerland May 2007 – Present University of Fribourg, Fribourg, Switzerland Jan 2010– June 2012 Courses on the role of international organizations in international relations □ Lectures on a consultant basis on the topics of sustainable development, trade, and the impact of information technologies on international relations. Professional Development training. International Visiting Scholar College of Journalism and Communications, University of Florida Gainesville, FL USA Sep 2015 – Jan 2016 Collaborative research project titled: Patterns in Search Engine Results for the Trans-Pacific Partnership. Mother 2003 – Present Geneva, Switzerland and neighboring France A humbling experience demanding intense multi-tasking skills combined with patience, tolerance, persistence, and understanding. Acquired proficiencies: competence within chaos; wisdom amid nonsense; diplomacy among factionalism; and persuasion against recalcitrance.

	Programme Officer Jan 2002 – Jun 2003 Green Cross International Geneva, Switzerland Coordination assistant for the Earth Dialogues: bringing together high-level figures from government, civil society, and academia to discuss ethics and sustainable development □ Elaboration of concept papers and background documents □ Production of final report □ Bilingual liaison activities □ Recruitment of participants □ Facilitation of meetings of the interested parties □ Included substantive inputs, logistical supervision, and financial oversight □ Database design, construction and oversight. Programme Officer Nov 2000 – Jan 2002 International Centre for Trade and Sustainable Development Geneva, Switzerland Coordination of dialogues bringing together negotiators from developing countries, civil society, and academia to discuss issues on trade, environment and development □ Included supportive research, substantive inputs, rapporteuring, logistical organization, and bilingual liaison activities □ Focus topics: special and differential treatment, competitiveness, technology and trade, developing country environmental concerns. Programme Officer Jul 1998 - Dec 1999 Fondation du Devenir Geneva, Switzerland Formulation of sustainable development information system to serve the diplomatic communities of the developing world □ Research and synthesis of electronic information □ Bilingual liaison with partners, donors, academics and executives for consultation and collaboration □ Organization representative for conferences and project presentations □ Budget and contract design □ Database design, construction and maintenance. Presentation and Training Specialist Sep 1994 - Aug 1997 Computer Applications Learning Center, Inc Morristown, NJ USA Executive presentations and client demonstrations □ Development of training strategies and course design □ Organization of workshops □ Instruction of broad-based clientele on Microsoft Windows, Word, and Excel □ Internet training specialist. Computer Technician and Instructor Jan 1994 - Apr 1994 U. S. Peace Corps. Libreville, Gabon Jan 1994 - Apr 1994 Supervision and implementation of technical training program □ Staff training □ Course design □ Creation of training materials □ System and network maintenance.
Teaching experience at Webster	INTL 2610: Advocacy, NGOs & Civil Society INTL 5500: Professional Seminar for the Global Master of Arts in International Relations INGO 5510: Professional Seminar for the Global Master of Arts in International Non-Governmental Organizations INTL 5540: International Organizations INTL 6000: Capstone in International Relations
Professional Memberships	Chatham House
Awards and Honors	Douglass College Merit Scholar Douglass College Distinguished Scholar
Publications	Global Ethics and Sustainable Development , Terra Curanda III, Editor Patricia Morales, Summer 2002, www.terraturanda.org. Women's Access To Mortgage Lending In New Jersey , Report to New Jersey Citizen Action, May 12, 1997, Principal Investigators and Authors: Andrew Abrams, Jeffrey Lowe, Jeanette Lucente (Tantillo); Project Manager & Editor: Stephen Finn, M.S.W.

Conference Papers Presented	Workshop host: Search Engine Results - Diversity and Personalization, Frank 2019 Conference, University of Florida, Gainesville, FL USA, Feb 6, 2019 Information and Communication Technologies and the Impact of the Internet on the Environmental Debate: Fluctuations in the Flows of Information and Power, presented at the Technology and Environment Conference, Webster University, Geneva, Switzerland, June 2007. The Earth Dialogues, presented at Global Ethics for a Humane World, University College, Utrecht, Netherlands, July 2002.
Languages	English (native) · French (advanced)
Interests	Snowboarding, Films, Gardening, Kung-Fu, Home renovation, Non-violent conflict resolution – especially concerning laundry and screen time

